Association Management Resources Partners with Green Cross Academy of Traumatology

Tallahassee, FL — The Green Cross Academy of Traumatology (GCAT, www.greencross.org) of Tallahassee, FL has selected Association Management Resources (AMR) to provide full service management for the organization, effective immediately.

Susan Cabrera, President of AMR, will serve as Executive Director of GCAT.

GCAT was established in 1997 after the domestic terror attack on the Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City, to bring together world leaders to establish professional standards for education, certification and deployment for the new field of traumatology. Past deployments have included responses to the 2001 attacks in New York City and Washington, DC, as well as hurricane Katrina and the Southeast Asian tsunami, both in 2005.

“The end result of our staff’s working to help GCAT meet its resource and professional goals will be the best possible responses to communities experiencing disasters,” says Cabrera.

AMR is based in Tallahassee, Florida and has a staff of ten. It currently serves eight national, international and regional organizations on a full-service and project basis.

AMR is a member of the Association Management Company Institute, whose 100 members serve more than 1,000 associations with annual budgets exceeding $364 million.
