KAREN NASON EARNS CERTIFIED ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE CREDENTIAL

Glenview, IL– Association Management Center (AMC) is pleased to announce that Karen Nason has earned the Certified Association Executive (CAE) credential. Nason joins six other AMC colleagues who have earned this distinguished honor. The CAE is the highest professional credential in the association industry. Less than five percent of all association professionals have earned the CAE.

Nason has been at AMC since 1995. She currently serves as the Executive Director to the Association of Rehabilitation Nurses, The Rehabilitation Nursing Foundation, and the Rehabilitation Nursing Certification Board. Under her direction, all of her clients have seen impressive revenue growth. Scott Engle, AMC Principal, remarks, “We are proud of Karen and know that her skills and level of professionalism make a positive impact every day. Earning her CAE is a significant accomplishment that affirms her knowledge of the profession.”

The CAE program is developed and administered by the American Society of Association Executives (ASAE). To earn the CAE, an applicant must demonstrate experience in not-for-profit organization management, complete a minimum of 75 hours of specialized professional development, pass a stringent exam in association management, and pledge to uphold a code of ethics. Approximately 3,300 association professionals currently hold the CAE credential, which was first awarded in 1961.

Association Management Center has been the respected leader in association management for over 30 years. Owned and managed by the Engle family since its inception, AMC (www.connect2amc.com) is a trusted partner to 17 leading national and international organizations and has a staff of more than 160 association professionals.
